Construct Tomorrow is a hands-on learning program that brings the building and construction trades alive for high school students. At the career focused events, students get to try tools of the trades, talk to professionals about working in the field, discuss registered apprenticeship, and learn about the great wages and benefits of a career in construction!

FAST FACTS

- Founded in 2013, Construct Tomorrow is a non-profit dedicated to helping high-school students understand the amazing post-secondary opportunities in the union building and construction trades.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR CONTRACTORS?

The biggest benefit we can offer is generating youth interest in the construction trades – the workforce of tomorrow. Contractors are encouraged to attend events as volunteers; this counts towards good-faith efforts!

This money goes towards...

- Costs of transportation so students can come to the event.
- Costs of renting large venues such as the Mayo Civic Center, DECC, and other facilities.
- Flyers, posters, swag bags, booth costs.
- Event costs for volunteers and staff. Wages to program coordinator for time spent managing events.
